View from Woodstock

St Kyneburga. I wonder if you know anything about this saint. I wonder if you can pronounce the name, let alone spell it. Living in the Diocese of Gloucester we should know about her. She lived in the eighth century and was a co-foundress and abbess of the first religious community which existed where our cathedral is now.

In 2013 it was decided that the Diocese would like to recognise those who have given much of their time in furthering the work of God in Gloucestershire – and so the Company of St Kyneburga was formed. The award may be given to both the laity and the clergy.

We already have two members of the Company of St Kyneburga in the benefice [maybe there are more but I only know of the two]. On 17th June, in the Cathedral another is to be added. I am honoured that I have been invited to become a member of the Company.

I would like to thank you all for the way you have supported me over the years, churchwardens, congregations and communities have always been there to support me in my work. I pray that I will be able to do so in the future.

With love and blessings.

Pepita.

Local Club Activity

North Wiltshire Villages Flower Club

After our lovely visit to the Salisbury Cathedral Flower Festival in May, we are really enthusiastic for the demonstrator on 18th June 2025. She is Lesley Hunt from Weston-super-Mare and she is talking around her "Lifetime in Hospitality". I'm sure it will be enjoyable and we will raffle her designs at the end of the meeting.

On 16th July we have Beverly Clay doing a demonstration on "Here comes Summer". Do join us at 7 for 7.30pm at Crudwell Village Hall. We are just folk who love flowers. While some are experienced others are not, so please don't be anxious. There is plenty of parking space and we have free tea/coffee and cake at the end of the evening. Visitors are very welcome and may come for free for their first visit.

Kemble Church Fete

Thank you to all who helped make the Kemble Church Fete the success it was; we raised nearly £5,000.

At the end of the day...

Thank you that the sun shone on each scrappy thought that came to mind

Thank you that the sun shone on the paper, tape, scissors; the bins, loo roll and flowers

Thank you that the sun shone on every willing volunteer who made their quest their own

Thank you that the sun shone on the new and not so sure, to potentially make it their own

Thank you that the sun shone on the band and bouncy castle, dog show and raffle

Thank you that the sun shone on teas and Pimm's, cakes and sweets, toys and gifts, splat the rat, fruit machine and duck

Thank you that the sun shone from the entrance gate, cars and plants to tractor rides, skittles and cricket

Thank you that the sun shone on every smiling face from Kemble, nearby or far-flung shore

Thank you that the sun shone on young and old, small and tall, rich and poor, famous or not.

Thank you that the sun shone on pedigree dogs to rescued mutts

Thank you that the sun shone on the money counters and money spenders, the donators and the buyers, the doers and the sit backers, that all have had their fill.

This was written at the end of that successful day from my perspective and does not take into account the work of erecting and dismantling of tents and gazebo's, tables and chairs, trailer loads loaded and unloaded, the gardening that was done, cakes that were made, cream that was whipped, attics that were cleared, prizes collected, posters put up and shared and banners wrestled with and probably countless other things besides.

Kemble Church, Eco Church

Kemble Church holds one of 3000 Eco Church awards, which help churches to care for God's creation.

So far this year, we have had a wonderful spring display of wildflowers and blossom and, if car windscreens are to be believed, there may be signs that there are more flying insects about than last year.

If you are struggling with aphids, such as greenfly, it is worth encouraging top aphid predators such as birds, wasps, ladybirds, hoverflies, lacewings and earwigs. You can also try companion planting of pungent-smelling plants like sage, onions, garlic, which confuse the aphids.

In Kemble churchyard we have left areas of the grass uncut in order to let the grass and flowering plants to set seed and to produce food for pollinating insects. Hopefully we will see more butterflies when it comes to the butterfly count in July.

During June we will be taking part in the annual Love Your Burial Ground Week with Churches Count on Nature. The board will be back in the porch with the species log and identification guides: please come along and spend some time nature watching either to spot some of last year's finds, or to add to them. Even if you don't spot anything, it's an opportunity to catch a few minutes of calm. If you feel inspired to take a photo or draw a picture of what you see, please share it with us: juliettek@btinternet.com. When the results are in, we will log them with Caring for God's Acre.

Here are some other ways we can join in:

6 June: Butterfly Education and Awareness Day – to encourage the creation and protection of butterfly habitats.

7 – 15 June - Churches Count on Nature – love your burial ground week, please add your findings so we know what wildlife can be found in our churchyard.

14 June – Litter picking – meet at the Tavern at 10.30 – all welcome. Cirencester Repair Café will also be open from 10.00 – 13.00 at the Baptist Church.

16 June - 16th June: World Refill Day – a campaign to prevent plastic pollution. You can find our nearest refill and plastic free shops via www.refill.org.uk or www.actiononplastic.org/plastic-free-shopping

21 June – the summer solstice: there will be 16.5 hours of daylight.

It was fifty days since Passover, and Jews from many countries had come to Jerusalem to celebrate Passover. As the Apostles were gathered together the Holy Spirit came upon them and they began to speak in other languages as the Spirit enabled them.

The crowd that were listening were amazed as they heard about God in their own language.

How many people heard, believed and were baptised that day?

DID YOU KNOW?

The Bible or parts of the Bible have now been translated into over 3,000 different languages since it was first written in Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek.

Farming Matters

There has been much talk and consternation recently about tariffs and trade deals. It all kicked off in April when Donald Trump announced tariff rates for various goods entering the US from countries around the world, causing turmoil in international markets.

It's been widely reported that, subsequently the UK government has successfully negotiated a Trade Deal with the US. This has been over exaggerated. In fact, what was agreed on 8th May, was an Economic Prosperity Deal (EPD). Specifically, this deal will remove the tariff on UK steel exports to the US and reduce tariffs on UK cars to 10%.

The blanket 10% tariff imposed on all imports from the UK remains. I'm sure this was welcomed news for the car and steel industries but what does it mean for UK farming? Beef and ethanol were the key products mentioned with regards to agriculture.

The US has had a Tariff Rate Quota (TRQ) for beef imports within which there are country specific quotas for Australia, New Zealand, Argentina and Uruguay. The UK, along with Brazil, has access to this TRQ under the 'Other Countries' allocation which is 65,000 tonnes per year. In practice, however, it has been challenging for the UK to make use of this TRQ as Brazil often uses the entire allocation. This year, the 'Other Countries' allocation was spent in just 17 days. Following this agreement, the UK will now be able to export up to 13,000 tonnes of beef to the US, tariff free. There is a valuable market in the US for UK beef marketed as a premium product based on its high welfare and hormone-free credentials.

The US had a 1,000-tonne quota for exporting beef to the UK, which was subject to a 20% tariff. Under the EPD, the 20% tariff will be removed, and the US will have the same TRQ of 13,000 tonnes. Competition for UK beef farmers but US beef imports will have to meet UK food standards, (notably, no hormone treated beef).

The UK-US EPD will remove the current 19% tariff on ethanol imports to the UK and replace this with a duty free TRQ of 1.4 billion litres, which could pose a considerable threat to British farmers. The UK currently imports an average of 559 million litres of US ethanol.

The US are cheap, efficient producers of ethanol using surplus maize. British ethanol is mainly made from wheat sourced from British farmers. Bioethanol plays a big part in decarbonising the transport sector by creating E10 petrol, reducing emissions. The two UK bioethanol plants currently have capacity to purchase around two million tonnes of wheat each year (12% of our harvest) so many farmers could lose a reliable market for their wheat. The process also creates two important by-products, carbon dioxide and high protein animal feed. Cheaper imports could result in higher animal feed prices and carbon dioxide sourcing issues for the NHS.

Meanwhile a proper Free Trade Agreement (FTA) was agreed with India on 6th May. But India takes a protectionist stance to its domestic agriculture, employing substantive tariff barriers including a 30% tariff on beef, lamb and pork. Dairy tariffs are even higher at 42% for milk powders, 40% for butter and 32% on cheese. There could be market opportunity for UK value added dairy products, notably cheese and butter but reports indicate that duty concessions on dairy were excluded from the agreement, to protect India's domestic dairy industry.

So, what about the EU? In recent years, a significant proportion of meat and dairy that the UK exports has been sent to the EU: Beef – 79%, Pork – 37%, Sheep meat – 94% and Cheese – 78%. Since leaving the EU, added red tape and Export Health Certificates (EHC) have impacted export businesses. The agreement with the EU on 19th May promises to remove some of this red tape which has made exporting food and drink to the EU damagingly complex and expensive. So, to remove the bureaucracy and make exporting food to the EU simpler, it appears we have agreed to align ourselves with EU food standards (which we were anyway) and allow EU fishermen to use UK waters until 2038. In exchange we get to use e-gates at borders and young people are able to work and study in other European countries. Food exporters are pleased but UK fishermen are not impressed.
